

$ 25.00

My Sicily:

Life in the cusp of the Mediterranean Sea

.....When I close my eyes, I see Sicily.....

.....Though we left the island, the island never left us.....

.....This book is a collection of my personal memories, reflections and impressions as I associate them with each individual place.

Francesca V. Mignosa, M.A., was born and raised in Augusta, Sicily and moved to the USA in 1997. Through the years, she has covered the roles of Editor, Journalist, Screenwriter along with the teaching of Creative Writing, Communication and Public Speaking courses. Francesca has been recognized for her published articles, short stories and screenplays in the USA and in Italy. In 2007, she was the winner - first classified in the world - of the Italian literary award "Sicilia Mondo." The author divides her time between Sicily and the USA. This is her first book.

To learn more about her book tour, events, photos and reflections - visit her blog and sign up at <http://francescamignosa.wordpress.com> or follow her on Facebook: Francesca V. Mignosa {Author}

For interviews or to schedule a book signing/presentation, she can be reached via email at mignosafrancesca@gmail.com

Book cover, design and format by

Giovanna E. Mignosa - giovannamignosa@gmail.com

My Sicily

Francesca V. Mignosa

My Sicily:

Life in the cusp of the Mediterranean Sea

Francesca V. Mignosa

